OREGON AUTHORS

- This fall library staff have focused on highlighting Oregon authors within the library's collections. Books are labeled with an "Oregon Author" sticker on their spine and searchable in the library's online catalog. The library follows the Oregon Library Association's Oregon Author Project criteria for Oregon authors (find more information at <https://www.olaoregonauthors.org/>). All fiction sections within the library's physical collection have been completed, and library staff will be starting on nonfiction soon.
- In September and October, the library also featured local authors in two programs. In September, the Friends of the Library hosted An Authors' Evening featuring local authors Michelle E. Black, Bob Crites, Janet Fisher, and Deanna Jentsch. In October the library welcomed local author Shannon Applegate for a cozy-spooky Halloween program.
- Know of a local or Oregon author that should be included in the library's collection? Contact the Mildred Whipple Library!
